to be a sailing vessel as her course was not changed.

On the Tornado every effort was made to hasten the repairs they were engaged in, and at two o'clock the chief engineer pronounced them completed. All steam possible was immediately got up, and the vessel headed for the Virginius, soon reaching a speed of fourteen knots, and slowly gaining upon her. The Virginius had in the meantime kept on her course, but divi ing hostile intentions of Tornado, changed it towards Jamaica, and being cut of coal commenced to burn patroleum greese, fat and other combustibles from provisions on board, such as hams, &c. Night crosed in and the vessels were in the same relative positions, the Tornado, however, gaining upon her prey. The bright light of the fill moon kept the Virginius in full sight, and her two masts and a dense cloud of smoke, on account of the nature of her fuel, were clearly visible to the slowly gaining Tornado. Further, to facilitate their flight they threw overboard horses, cumon and many cases of arms and amunition—after wards stated to be two thouhorses, cannon and many cases of arms and amunition—after wards stated to be two thou-

As soon as they got within gun shot the Tornado fired a sun, followed by three other shots and shells. This brought the Virginius to, and two armed boats from the Tornado came alongside and took possession of the vessel, and made prisoners of all on board.

At the time of capture the Virginius was flying the American flag, out this was pulled down by the Spanish officer and the Spanish ensign holsted in its place, although the pa-pers of the vessel, duly dispatched and colors were handed to him. The vessel at the time was in British waters, and within a league, as I am positively assured, of the coast of On this point all accounts differ. One gives the capture as having been effected twenty miles off the coast of Jamaica, and official accounts state twelve miles. The disry states at twenty-three miles. The journals of Santiago De Cuba eight miles and twenty miles, and the version of the Vose De Cuba twelve miles. The comman-der of the Tornado publicly states in Santi ago De Cuba that an hour later and the Vir-ginius could have saved herself by entering the same port of Jamaics.

After capture, the next two hours were employed in transferring some of the prisoners to the Tornad's, and putting the prize crew on the Virginius. Total number of persons on board amount to 165, of whom 90 are said to be natives of the Island and the remainder foreigners. Of these 165 persons, 63 are thought to form the crew.

At midolyht that night the two vessels started for Santiago de Cuba and arrived the following day at five o'clock in the after-leon, having been joined by the Spanish steamer Cantabro. This fact alone of seven teen hours' steaming would tend to prove that they were at a considerable distance from Cuba, and very near Jamaica, as the distance between the two islands is not much above one hundred miles.

Turning over the pages of the "Art Treasures of Germany," one finds, among other good things, a very romantic and read able account of Murillo's courtship. It with the remembered that Murillo has been called "the painter of conceptions." We are told (as much by the number of representations he has left as by anything else) that ne was very fond of painting the Immaculate Conception—the strange mystery of the woman clothed with the sus, with the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of stars. Almost invariably one a crown of stars. Almost invariably one face appears in these conceptions—the face of a virgin wonderfully sweet where one of a virgin wonderduly sweet where one studies it; the eyes cast down, yet revealing their loveliness; the face oval; the lips small and tender in their expression, and yet over all a look of superiorly, of divine reserve, that forbids too familiar an interest in her lovely being. This lady was not over eighteen years of age, was a cultivated and ardent admirer of art, and had taken a decided fancy to Murilio and his pictures. The artist himself was poor; timid, comparatively unknown, and yet feeting even then the power that lay undeveloped in him. RADICAL SPECIAL TAX BONDS.

RALWER, November 13.—In 1871 the Treasurer of the State, under authority of the Legislature, appropriated to the general purposes of the government $241,900 that had been collected to pay the interest on the bonds known as special tax bonds.

To-day four bills in equity were filed in the United States Coart, for the Eastern District of North Carolias, praying that the Public Treasurer be er joined from paying any meney out of the treasury until he has first replaced the above sum to the credit of the funds for which the same was raised, for the purpose of providing for the payment of the interest on the bonds, held by the plaintiff, and all other holders who may become parties to such suits.

A preliminary injunction has been granted by Judge Bond, and the 26th inst. set for the hearing of a motion for a special injunction. While there is a growing disposition on he part of the people and press to recognize the old debt of the State, the people are fixed in their determination to resist, by all lawful means, the payment of these special tax bonds. When these are disposed of steps will undoubtedly be taken to compromise the old debt upon a basis acceptable to the State and bondholders.

Mr. Hall replied that the Vice Consul had already protested in the strongest terms against the proceedings, but that his action was seriously obstructed by Spanish officials. All avenues of communication are being closed against him. The telegraph line between Santiago and Havana being interrupted, he was prevented from telegraphing to Kingston in order to make inquiry relative to the Virginius. When she was brought into port there was nothing left to him but the slow process of the mails, and this mode of communication was of no advantage under the circumstances. Immediately on the receipt of Consul General Hill's dispatch, the Secretary of State ingrucuted Minister Sickles to enter with the Spanish government a strong protest against the proceedings at Santiago, characterizing them as an outrage on civilization and humality, and an insult to the Ame.ican government.

The Kansas received a supply of stores this evening and it is thought she will sail tonight. The Juniata will be ready to sail tomorrow night. The Brooklyn Eagle says that Executive Officer Ransom, of the Navy Yard, in an in-

He thought that there was a prospect of war with Spain, and that the government would undoubtedly proceed by taking Cuba.

The Spanish frigate Arapilas, undergoing repairs at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, has had her plates removed and could not possibly be got in trim for service in less than ten weeks. COTTON SUIT.

First. We reserve the right to pay cash in Heu of the first 12 presents. Second. We can require our Trustees, hereafter named, to scale, if necessary, the prizes to the number of cards disposed of, but in any event to retain one of the Building prizes for Distribution.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION.

To represent the numbered cards issued to subscribers, 5,000 cards, each marked with the name of a present, and including all in the above list, will be thrown together and thoroughly mingled. From the receptacle of these cards, into which only a hand can be passed, one card after another will be drawn and numbered in the order drawn—1, 2, 3, etc. For instance, that subscriber having the card numbered 6, is entitled to the present upon the sixth card drawn. As the entire transaction will be in public, the cards are only numbered as drawn out, and all the cards will be drawn, everything must be perfectly fair, and some of our subscribers must become the owner of a half interest in the building, valued at $7.500, and the other leading presents, valued at from $100 to $400 each, including two city lots, will be held by other subscribers. Mosers. W. A. Hemphill & Co.—Dear Sirs: We have received from you titles, properly signed, to one-half interest in the Constitution Building, which, as Trustees, we shall deliver to the partles entitled to it under the plan of distribution advertised by you. The building is, including basement, two stories high, one of the handsomest and best built in the city, and we think, with lot, correctly valued at about $15,000.

OBSERVE.

PUBLIC DISTRIBUTION.—The presents will be distributed in public, in presence of Mayor Hammock, General Austell, President Atlanta National Bank, Judge S. B. Hoyt, Cashier Georgia Railroad Bank, Judge C. H. Strong, Col. G. W. Adair, President Georgia Western Railroad, Col. J. R. Waliace, and others.

1. We allow only sixty (60) days from this date, October 16th, for the operation of this grand scheme, and herefore, all who would seize this splendid opportunity must do so within 60 days.

2. By special request, any two daily subscribers can obtain two six months' receipts and one card, or a $5 ubscription will secure the paper for the first ix months of 1874 and one half interest in any of the first four-cen presents, should any one of them be drawn to the card.

3. WEEKLY subscribers have an equal chance of participation by forming clubs of five, to whom five annual receipts will be sent and one card for $10 subscription.

4. Send money direct by Post Office Order, Registered Letter or Express.

5. We call special attention to this fact to avoid any dissatisfaction. Only $5,000 cards will be issued. We hall possitively refuse to increase the number, which is less than the number of old subscribers are entitled to share in the distribution, it will be seen that it is necessary to remit at once, or the imited number of cards may be disposed of and the chance missed. TO THE PRIENDS AND PATRONS OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Through the darkest hours of Georgia's history The Constitutions atood fearlessly by you and your rights, against prescription, persecution, and even heavy libel suits by trate Radical Governors. In spite of such opposition The Constitution of the people's support by a grand distribution of presents. Mark you, it is no bitery; you do not give one cent more than your subscription, and you do only what subscribers should always do—psy in advance. The percentage of loss thus saved by us, and in expense of collecting, enables us to return it to subscribers in presents, and realize post beside. Now we appeal to your gratitude and generosity, and if you hear that appeal, as you will, we shall erect a building capable of accommodating our increased busic ess, and which shall stand as a memorial monument to the noble liberality of the subscribers of The Atlanta Constitution—their Christmas present. Who cannot pay the small sum of one year's subscription in advance:

How to Live Economically.—The problem of how to economize in living is one that engages the serious attention of a great many people. "Many a little makes a mickle," was one of Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard," truism that summarizes the whole system of popular extravagance. If you wish to save money, economise in little as well as in large items of expenditure. For all the household purposes for which polishing powders, Bath brick and soap are usually used, excepting the one thing of washing clothes, Sapolto is by many times the cheapest article that can be employed. To say nothing about its great superiority to all other substances, it is, on the score of money alone by far the cheapest. Remember this fact and save many dollars every year.
